RUSSIANS FEARING CAPTURE BY JAPS, BLOW UP OWN SHIPS

TORPEDO BOAT AT CHEFOO AFTER RUNNING BLOCKADE IS DESTROYED.
LONDON, Nov. 16.—The Russian torpedo boat Fastorputy, which arrived at Chefoo this morning, after having escaped the Japanese blockade at Port Arthur, has been blown up.
The Russians themselves accomplished the destruction of their own boat, to prevent, it is believed, her capture by Japanese torpedo boats which were reported outside of the harbor.

Several soldiers who were suspected of a desire to desert have been shot as a warning to others.
The Japanese now believe that the garrison has almost reached the limit of human endurance.
The Sanki Kow, published in Port Arthur, says that while a Japanese destroyer was laying mines near the entrance to the port on November 11, she was fired on and sunk by the Russian battleship Retvizan.

12,000 FALL IN FIGHT.
The correspondent of the Italy Telegraph gives numbers of reported Japanese attack on Port Arthur with 12,000 ships between November 2 and November 6, with 12,000 casualties. The Italy Telegraph, however, does not credit these figures.
The Sanki Kow, published in Port Arthur, says that while a Japanese destroyer was laying mines near the entrance to the port on November 11, she was fired on and sunk by the Russian battleship Retvizan.

NAVAL BATTLE REPORTED.
The Fastorputy's arrival at Chefoo was preceded by sounds of heavy firing in the direction of Port Arthur which seemed to indicate a desperate fight by the whole Russian fleet for a haven of refuge and a subsequent battle with the Japs. It was even reported at Chefoo during the afternoon that the entire Russian squadron had escaped with the Fastorputy, but there was nothing to confirm the vague rumor.
The Fastorputy took refuge in the harbor at Chefoo during a storm. Japanese torpedo boats followed the Russian vessel at far as the entrance to the harbor, and there took up their stand awaiting the emergence of the Russian destroyer.

Agreed to Disarm.
This morning the commander of the Chinese cruiser Hai-Chang notified the Russian commander that he must disarm. The latter refused to give up his arms, but he agreed to the demand, hoping that he might elude the Japanese by nightfall, but on receipt of a reply to a telegram to St. Petersburg, asking for instructions, he decided to disarm. He said that he would agree to disarm.
It is said that the spirit of the Russian troops has been dampened by continuous work, the lack of supplies and the hopelessness of their ability to make any successful defense of the fortress.
Many of the Russian soldiers are ready to surrender, but are kept at their posts by officers who threaten them with re-

BLAZING OIL IMPERILS MANY

A fire in a trench twenty feet from the main tank at the works of the Standard Oil Company was extinguished early today by workmen on Sixth street, East Cambridge. The fire, which narrowly escaped from the blazing trench, was caused by a pipe which had been struck by a hammer. The ground in which the workmen were digging was oil-soaked and a spark from the pipe ignited it. It is supposed the cause of the fire was a hammer striking a pipe which had been struck by a hammer. At Madison Square Garden Mr. Jordan has carried all before him. The victory of his four over Mrs. John Geyken's Lord Brilliant, Newsboy, Brandon and Belmar has been the one topic of conversation among the early visitors to the show to-day.
That, however, was only one win of many. In the class for yearling colts two of the three Jordan entries were first and second. In the three-year-old class Mr. Jordan's My Caro took the red, being beaten by Robert Whitworth's Queen Wilhelmina. In the Whitworth's class, which carried two entries, the judges, Mr. Jordan was again in the fore. The Harbor and Kitty took the red, being beaten by Robert Whitworth's Queen Wilhelmina. NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—To appear in Madison Square Garden in the cold, gray days of the winter months is to announce one's self more enthusiastically over the horse than the people, which is to confess their ignorance of the real reason for the existence of the show.
I suppose there are innumerable, uneducated ones who imagine that the horse show happens that people may see the horses.
Poor dears! They are deceived. The horse show is given that people may see each other, and the horses are merely an attractive and fashionable excuse.
Whereas it would seem quite absurd to build a show of pretty women and their gowns and jewels, yet with a certain flag whose horses may prove and go through their paces, the women, gowns and jewels may be exhibited with the greatest propriety.
Merrill's gowns, short as to skirt and severe in lines, are not worth the trouble to

THE FAIR GIRL SOCIETY

Miss Eleanor Sears Starts it, and It Is Driving In a Gig.

GOSSIP OF THE SMART SET

By Billie Beaton.

Miss Eleanor Sears, who has of late fallen from sight as a factor of news in the society columns, has adopted a new and which again brings her to the front. The latest fact of this pretty and vivacious young woman is a two-wheeled gig in which she took merry jaunts on the North Shore roads, much to the wonder and amazement of the good people of that neighborhood. By this time I should think that the "all the year around driving" would be accustomed to Miss Sears and her gig, but this gig of hers is not exactly a touring gig, but the next thing to it.

She drives her favorite horse, "Billy," in this gig, and Billy and his mistress have given them these days. The horse with his sleek, shiny chestnut coat, and his mistress in her smart black dress, for she will wear black to the exclusion of everything else, make a pretty picture.

Miss Sears and her gig have been driving about the North Shore roads, and Miss Sears and her gig have been driving about the North Shore roads, and Miss Sears and her gig have been driving about the North Shore roads.

MASSIFIED AS THE BEAU ENTHUSES HIS AUDIENCE

FIRST TIME IN NINE YEARS THAT BOSTON PEOPLE HAVE SEEN HIM IN THIS CHARACTER

By Henry L. Merritt.

Richard Mansfield gave Boston the go-go, for the first time in something like nine years, a chance to see again his character of "Beau Brummel" at the Colonial Theatre last night. The audience was large and enthusiastic, and it may be noted, in this connection, that in response to the demonstration at the conclusion of the play the star did not appear to have his thanks until he had transformed himself from the Beau into plain Richard Mansfield. It was the same way the light before the end of "The Terrible".

Beau Brummel is one of the best plays in a book with Winter and in the hands of a man who has been successful in attracting people to see him, and in nothing has he been more so than in his performance, may note the need of a reform, the test better than would play of recent years.

There is nothing new to be said of the play. The most is said when it is said that it receives well. It is one of the most successful comedies of modern times, and it has been seen in many years. Without a particle of sentiment, it is a play of the most perfect kind. It is a play of the most perfect kind. It is a play of the most perfect kind.

THE PLAY REVIVES WELL
